

Relationsink

Words and music by casper coffin

You offered your heart for the price of my soul
I loved you to start but you're too stupid to know
It's like a ship in a storm that's trying to sail
But we know it's doomed and love doesn't exist

We're sinking in this relationship
We hurt each other, but I don't give a shit
We're sinking in this relationship
I caught your eye but you let me drift

Take all my treasure and leave me for dead

I said you were a diamond, you said I was rough
I craved your love, wished for a simple touch
Any special thing I did was discounted
But you'd be my rock if I were drowning

We're sinking in this relationship
We hurt each other, but I don't give a shit
We're sinking in this relationship
I caught your eye but you let me drift

Take all my treasure and leave me for dead

If I were stranded with you on an island
There's no chance that we could be friends
You're worth as much as a shit in a toilet
Flushed away to the great big sea

We're sinking in this relationship
We hurt each other, but I don't give a shit
We're sinking in this relationship
I caught your eye but you let me drift

Take all my treasure and leave me for dead
Take all my treasure and leave me for dead
Take all my treasure and leave me for dead
Take all my treasure and leave me for dead
